We exported to Cuba hardware to the value of $316,762

In 1891. In 1892 our hardware sales to the same island were valued at $333,827

A single little word explains the increase —Reciprocity.

—New York Press.

Applications for Fourth class Postoffices are reaching Washington at the rate of one thousand a day. Evidently the Democratic crossroad storekeepers have their own views of Grover's inaugural dedicatory address.

A great deal is said about the duties of National, state and local health boards in regard to keeping out the cholera, but it should not be forgotten that every family and individual have also a duty to perform. Premises and person should be kept clean.

Sacramento Record-Union. —The threatening of the roar from spoliomiles is already heard in Washington. Inside of six months it will be sounding up and down the length and breadth of the Union if Mr. Cleveland adheres to what appears to be his present resolution.

Courier Journal. —Postmaster General Bissell is going to relieve Congressmen of some of their self assumed duties in supplying the country with Postmasters. This ought to be a welcome relief to our Congressional statesmen. The abilities of many of them are sufficiently taxed in drawing their garden seeds, Patent Office reports and salaries.

Postmaster General Bissell has repeated the announcement that no one who held a Postoffice under President Cleveland's first Administration will be reappointed where there is another applicant for the office. The Postmaster General says that he and not the President is responsible for this rule, which applies to all classes of Postoffices and will be closely observed.

The Washington correspondent of The Courier-Journal says of all the Departments the Treasury seems to be the one closest to the hearts of the spoliomiles Democrats, if applications for position in that Department are any criterion, and it is the Treasury the Kentucky Democrats are after getting in. So far, "the boys in the trenches" have been high game. There is an applicant from Kentucky for nearly every first and second class job in that Department.

The Mugwumps were immensely pleased when the President was reported to have barred editors from official appointments, and they quoted to him encouragement these words of Daniel Webster: "An open attempt to secure the aid and friendship of the public press by bestowing the emoluments of office on its active conductors, seems to me, of everything we have witnessed, to be the most reprehensible. It degrades both the Government and the press." Now that the President declares the report false and that he will make discrimination against editors, the Mugwumps are looking up authorities in favor of editorial appointments to office. The Mugs are bound to appraise Grover whatever he does.

Two Kings of England reigned longer than Queen Victoria has been on the throne—George III., who reigned from 1760 to 1820, fifty-one years; and George III., whose reign lasted from 1819 to 1837, fifty-six years. Victoria has reigned almost fifty-six years. Next to her came Edward III., whose reign of fifty years lasted from 1327 to 1377, and Elizabeth, who reigned forty-four years, between 1558 and 1603. James VI. of Scotland reigned fifty-eight years over that kingdom, though he was King of England only twenty-two years, and William the Lion of Scotland reigned there for forty-nine years, from 1165 to 1214. Anasrard, Prince of Wales, ruled from 877 to 942, sixty-five years; and Griffith ap Cyian ruled from 1070 to 1106, a period of fifty-seven years. None of the Kings of Ireland reigned very long. The longest reign between those of Ciaran and the "comes" of Ireland in 1172 was that of Godolphus O'Conor, who ruled from A. D. 213 to 238, forty years; and Malachy II. (Mad Ceochin), who was King of Ireland from 986 to 1003, when he reigned in favor of Brian Boromhe, and on that hero's death became King for a second time, reigning from 1014 to 1039, his entire reign covering forty-one years.

The original copy of the Constitution of the United States and the Declaration of Independence will be exhibited at the World's Fair.

CALVIN WATTS. a negro barber, has been arrested at Henderson to answer a charge of arson for which he is wanted in Georgia.

WHILE other sections think they have the office fixed, Eastern Mass. thinks it is in a bad shape, considering that Affairs are in the way.

It is believed that the World's Fair will not be ready for opening May 1st, and Affairs are in a bad shape, considering that Affairs are in the way.

PUBLIC LEDGER

DAILY REPUBLICAN

FIRST YEAR.

MAYSVILLE, KY., MONDAY, MARCH 20, 1893.

ONE CENT.

"If you have friends visiting you, or if you are going away on a visit, please drop us a note to that effect."

H. H. Hunt was down Saturday from Millersburg.

Dr. Harry S. Wood of Cincinnati was here Saturday.

George H. Donaldson of Charleston, W. Va., is in the city.

Miss Jessie Judd has returned from a visit to Louisville.

E. F. Conner of Vaucluseburg was at the Central yesterday.

Harry C. McDougal came down from Lexington to spend Sunday.

Col. E. Stanley Lee spent Saturday and Sunday with his family here.

Mrs. Sulie Trow and Miss McDougal were guests of the Central Saturday.

Mrs. T. W. Waldrop of Dover is the guest of Mr. T. W. Mitchell at Ashland.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Armstrong have returned from a visit to relatives at Millersburg.

Mrs. Rev. E. L. Powell of Louisville is on a visit to the home of Mrs. A. B. Miner, West Second street.

Dr. A. G. Browning is in Washington City, fixing up the fence around the Fifth Auditorium's orchard.

Miss Minnie Van Syke of Kingston, N. Y., will arrive to-morrow evening to be the guest of Miss Belle Barkley.

Mrs. G. L. Gayton is at home after a visit of several weeks to her daughter, Mrs. William Turner.

Miss Lillian Schwartz, daughter of George Schwartz, has gone to Indiana to take charge of a large military house.

Captain John Smeal and daughter Miss Tillie of Aberdeen have returned from Washington City, New York, Bridgeport, Conn., and Poughkeepsie, where they visited relatives.

Commercial Gazette. —Colonel A. C. Rose, who was Postmaster of Mayfield under Cleveland, is here on a business visit, and is unlike most ex-offenders, not a candidate for reappointment. While in New York recently Colonel Rose had a chat with ex-Governor Jim Campbell, who was then engaged in money-making politics, was in the present programme, and nothing could induce him into another campaign—at least just now.

DEMOCRATIC EDITOR NEED APPLY.

The office is to be filled by a editor,
The price in the bottle was dry.

He sells his house at the spot of the wind,
A tear-drop of sorrow, and not remorse,

Was the tear that moistened the lash,
And the woe that came to his swelling lips
Columbus.

He showed off the end of a steel pen point,
His whiskers were blown off before,

For the tick he lived so well,
And now must go to the poor old doghouse.

The editor sat in his working chair,

The light of his candle grown dim,
The world's greatest desolate blank,

The Post office won't be here,

And party and effort and everything

That make up an editor's vise,

The Post office wasn't for him.

—New York Sun.

Can and Bulk Oysters at old prices,
also fresh Fish received daily at John Wheeler's.

At Lancaster a jury acquitted Armp Bowland of the charge of murder of Frank Stewart.

A STRIKE is on among the carpenters of Lexington, and many building contracts have been canceled.

THE furniture dealers of Louisville decided to ask the Legislature to make it a felony to charge usury.

DANVILLE colored people built an opera-house for their own use and have now a good mineral company on the road.

THE Appellate Court Committee has favorably reported the bill fixing the salaries of Appellate Judges at $5,000 per annum.

If you want Sohn's Old Gold Beer of the imperial brew, call on Jacob Linn, No. 13 Market street. He has the exclusive sale.

THURS was a night fire at the residence of Dr. John P. Phister Saturday evening, the porches and carport being damaged. In extinguishing the flames the Doctor's hand was burned considerably.

THE force of the dreadful spotted fever, which has been raging in Marshall county, is still on the increase. There are about eighty cases, forty-five of which proved fatal. The others are improving, but are said to be in some way deformed or crippled.

W. R. Bloom, a former attorney of THE LEADER, sends us the St. Patrick's edition of The Monitor; (Ind.) News, all garnished o'er with green.

THE case of William Breeding against the Louisville and Nashville Railroad is on trial at Springfield in Washington county. The case has been on the docket since 1888, and is for a horse killed by defendant.

A CITIZEN of Ohio county tried at Herford on an indictment charging him with having given a false name and address in his election day. This is a violation of the new election law, but the defendant pleaded ignorance as an excuse. This, of course, was no valid reason for his not being tried, but the indictment was dismissed on a technical ground.

It was the usually the first case tried for violation of the new law.

CHARLES P. HATES, employed by the Southern Engineering Company at Louisville, beat citizens and banks out of $75 worth checks and then skipped.

THE Postmaster General has notified Senators and Representatives that their recommendations will not be sufficient to secure the appointment of Postmasters, as he intends to add some expression from patrons of offices in regard to the fitness of applicants.
